Stockton Hires Human Resources Director

(Stockton, CA) - The Stockton City Manager's Office announced the hiring of a new Human Resources Director. Teresia Haase, currently the Human Resources Director for Mendocino County, will begin with the City of Stockton, May 23, 2011.

"Teresia is the right person, at the right time, for our city," said City Manager Bob Deis. "She has recent experience leading negotiations to reduce costs. She also has a unique private sector background in systems analysis and implementation. This is a key skill when managing human resource systems."

In addition to her experience at Mendocino County, Ms. Haase has served as the Human Resources Director for the City of Eureka and as a Human Resources Manager and Assistant to the City Manager for the City of Fort Bragg. Prior to working for public agencies, she was responsible for business product and systems development and implementation for Oracle Corporation and Deloitte & Touche Consulting.
